Learn More Here... Who We Are: We are a community where people of any age and background can learn fundamentals of art making from classical realism to contemporary painting. "your frustration ends at our front door". We understand an artist's frustration at having a great idea but not being able to execute it with polish and panache. The good news is, "your frustration ends at our front door!" We are here to help you create meaningful artwork through our selection of diverse classes and workshops. Our students come from a diverse background of careers, all ages and skill levels. The only requirement we have is the desire and the passion to make art!
