Continue

```
The epidemic-imposed quarantine has given rise to a number of skilled home cooks and bakers. You must be aware of and obtain an FSSAI Registration or License if you operate a homemade products business in India. If you don't have one, the FSSAI may also ban your company, or you may be subject to a severe fine of up to Rs. 5 lakhs. Learn everything there is to know about FSSAI Registration before you sell handmade products in India. What is FSSAI? A government organisation called the Food Safety and Standards Authority of India, or FSSAI, is in charge of policing India's food businesses and industry. It is a distinct entity that answers directly to the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare of the Indian government. The Food Safety and Standards Authority of India (FSSAI) was established in accordance with the Food Safety and Standards Act, 2006 (FSS Act), a single piece of legislation that governs all facets of food regulation in India. Food items are put through rigorous testing to stop the distribution of subpar products and food tampering. It is responsible for registering and issuing licences to Food Business Operators (FBO), as well as setting the standards for the Indian food business. What is FSSAI Registration? Before they can legally produce, prepare, store, distribute, or sell food, firms dealing with food in India are required to obtain some sort of registration or licence, according to the FSSAI, known as Basic FSSAI Registration, or to obtain a licence from the organisation, known as FSSAI License, depending on the size and nature of operations. It is a 14-digit registration or licence number that is specific to each food business and may be found on all food packaging. The registration procedure is meant to give FBOs more accountability for maintaining the uniformity and safety of their food products. The procedure and requirements for getting a licence or registration for a food business are governed by the Food Safety & Standards Regulations, 2011. Importance of FSSAI Registration for Selling Homemade Products in India All companies that sell homemade food products must register with the FSSAI or receive a basic registration. You will require an FSSAI License if your annual turnover exceeds Rs 12 lakh. Subsets can be found even within the licence to those with annual sales over Rs 20 Crore; those with annual sales over Rs 20 Crore must apply to the Central FSSAI office. The licence that was granted to you after the registration process is complete is only good for usage in the state where the licence was initially sought; it cannot be used in any other state. The length of the FSSAI registration may range from one to five years, and it may be renewed if required. A renewal application must be submitted by businesses that sell homemade products 30 days before their FSSAI licence expires. A fine of Rs. 100 per day will be assessed for late submission of the registration renewal. According to the Food Safety and Standards Act of 2006, anyone selling homemade products without the required registration faces a punishment of up to Rs 2 Lakh. Key Points to remember for Homemade Food Products Business in India as per FSSAI Standards Keep the space where the food is prepared clean at all times. Air, light, and regular cleaning must be accessible. In order to avoid the buildup of dirt and bacteria on the kitchen utensils, all procedures must be followed. To use the cleanest equipment possible, every effort must be made. Access to protective gear, including clean aprons, hard hats, and gloves, is necessary for workers. Personal hygiene must be emphasised. Why is FSSAI License Important for homemade products? The Ministry of Health and Family Welfare is where the Food Safety and Standard Authority of India (FSSAI) operates. The FSSAI requires any company involved in the food industry to register. Obtaining an FSSAI certificate guarantees the food you produce is secure and hygienic. It consists of a meal preparation business as well as a food delivery, distribution, catering, and retailing operation. To obtain the FSSAI certificate, FoSCos (Food Safety Compliance) was established by FSSAI. Online home kitchens must register with the FSSAI to conduct business. Without an FSSAI certificate, they won't be able to operate their firm. Swiggy and Zomato greatly aid the delivery of orders from online home kitchens. However, these platforms forbid third parties from listing their product without an FSSAI licence. The customer will be able to trust your goods and services as a result. The following are some ways that an FSSAI accreditation can help you take your business to the next level while also helping you meet regulatory requirements: Create a trustworthy brand for your online homemade food products by focusing on quality. Any legal proceeding involving your company will be simple and successful thanks to your FSSAI licenses. You can electromagnetic thanks to your FSSAI licenses. You can electromagnetic thanks to your FSSAI licenses and simplify the loan application process. How to get FSSAI License for homemade products? FSSAI food licence certificates come in three different varieties. You must apply based on your business cap. These three licence types are: Basic FSSAI permits are available. Such enterprises should have a turnover of less than Rs. 12 lakhs per year. A Basic Food licence is adequate for these tiny enterprises. You must fill out Form A for a Basic FSSAI registration/FSSAI certificate. You must update your food licence from Basic FSSAI registration to state FSSAI registration whenever your business's annual revenue reaches Rs. 12 lakhs. Documents required: Address proof Passport size photos Business details FSSAI declaration form State FSSAI declaration for State FSSAI declaration for State FSSAI decl and Rs. 20 crores are required to obtain a state-issued FSSAI licence or certificate. The state will issue a food licence to any online home kitchen that provides food and generates revenue exceeding the aforementioned threshold. Fill out Form B in order to apply for this food licence. Documents Required:

Documents of business premises
                                   ID proof of the business owner (Aadhar/ Voter ID/ Driving License/ Passport)

Incorporation Certificate/ GST Registration/ Panchayath License/ Corporation License/ Municipality License. Any one of them.

Business details declaration forms Central FSSAI Food License Registration or FSSAI certificate: The nationwide chains of online home kitchens are covered by the Central FSSAI food licence. Even small enterprises that manage to generate more than Rs. 20 Crores fall into this group. You should apply for a Central food licence if your company's annual revenue exceeds Rs. 20 crores. Your mid-cap business must upgrade from a State food licence to a Central food licence if its annual revenue exceeds Rs. 20 crores. Fill out Form B to apply for this food licence agreement) ID proof of the Business Owner (Aadhar/ Voter ID/ Driving License/Passport) Incorporation Certificate/GST Registration/Trade License/ Municipality License/ Municipality Certificate for homemade products 1. Prepare a business plan. 2. Find out what your yearly turnover is. 3. Choose the application and any required paperwork. 5. Settling the fee 6. Send the application form to portal 7. You should exercise caution if there is any inaccurate information in your application. FSSAI may cancel your registration. The form must be updated if there are any changes that need to be made. The amended form must be returned within thirty days (about four and a half works). 8.FSSAI could approve the licence in between 15 and 45 days or roughly one and a half months. You must continually monitor the process to identify any inconsistencies. You might believe that going through all of these hoops to obtain an FSSAI certificate is challenging. But contacting a consultancy can make it simple. The market leader in terms of services for registering FSSAI licence certificates is Online Legal India. Our specialist will handle all the things that need to be done for you to obtain FSSAI registration. With the assistance of Online Legal India, you may complete the FSSAI Registration for selling Homemade products By obtaining the proper FSSAI Registration, a food business is better able to operate legally, establish a reputation, ensure the quality and safety of its products, grow its clientele, and facilitate its expansion. It is simpler for food businesses to attract financing, whether in the form of businesses to attract financing, whether in the form of businesses that sell homemade food products because it demonstrates to customers that they value their health and the safety of their food, two elements that are crucial for developing a loyal customer base. Conclusion To sum up, FSSAI Registration is necessary to run your home-based food business and increase your revenues, you must follow FSSAI Registration is necessary to run your home-based food business and increase your revenues, you must follow FSSAI Registration is necessary to run your home-based food business and increase your revenues, you must follow FSSAI Registration is necessary to run your home-based food business and increase your revenues, you must follow FSSAI Registration is necessary to run your home-based food business and increase your revenues, you must follow FSSAI Registration is necessary to run your home-based food business and increase your revenues, you must follow FSSAI Registration is necessary to run your home-based food business and increase your revenues, you must follow FSSAI Registration is necessary to run your home-based food business and increase your revenues, you must follow FSSAI Registration is necessary to run your home-based food business and increase your revenues, you must follow FSSAI Registration is necessary to run your home-based food business and increase your revenues and you will not have been provided in the provide regulations and obtain FSSAI registration. Furthermore, feel free to visit our Online Legal India website if you need assistance with the FSSAI Registration. 7.2K The Covid-19 pandemic and lockdown inspired a new breed of entrepreneurs - home bakers, chefs and food hobbyists who transformed their hobby into a business selling homemade food However as these home based food businesses become much more popular, it is essential to follow food safety requirements and regulations. The regulatory body for Food Safety will be the Food Safety will be the Food Safety and regulations. The regulatory body for Food Safety will be the Food Safety requirements and regulations. The regulatory body for Food Safety will be the Food Safety requirements and regulations. homemade products. Failure to get FSSAI required for homemade food in India. The FSSAI is a statutory organization established under the Food Safety & Standards Act, 2006, by Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, Government of India. Its objective is to regulate and keep track of the manufacturing, processing, distribution and selling of food items in India as per defined standards. FSS registration / license is a 14-digit unique identification number assigned to each FBO and required to show up on all food packaging and product labels. The kind of FSS registration or license depends upon the turnover of the food businesses annually. There are 3 categories: Basic FSSAI certificate: This is for small scale businesses and startups. State FSSAI License: Businesses having an annual turnover between Rs. 12 lakhs. They generally include home based businesses and startups.
a state level FSSAI license out of the state's FSSAI office. Central FSSAI license from the central FSSAI registration or license is needed for home food businesses for the following reasons: FSSAI registration is a legal requirement and can lead to substantial fines or closing of the food industry. FSSAI registration verifies the food products meet specified safety requirements and therefore are fit for human consumption. The inclusion of the FSSAI registration is often required for listing products on food delivery platforms like Swiggy and Zomato and for business expansion to several locations. FSS registration or license for homemade food businesses attract investment money and get business expansion to several locations. FSS registration or license for homemade food businesses attract investment money and get business locations.
turnover to figure out the necessary Basic, State, or Central registration/license. Get all the documents needed - address proof, identity proof, business incorporation form A Basic Registration, Form B State or even Central License). Pay the applicable FSSAI license cost - depending on the type of registration/license and yearly turnover of the business. Send application to be processed - and that could take 15 to forty five days. Renewal the FSS registration/license before it expires to avoid penalties. Some important points to keep in mind for homemade food products business in India are: Make a hygienic workspace for food preparation with sufficient air flow, light and regular cleaning. Access clean water and follow appropriate procedures to avoid bacteria and dirt from accumulating on equipment and utensils. Provide protective clothing for workers (aprons, hairnets and gloves) and also emphasize personal hygiene. Place the FSSAI license number on all product packaging and marketing materials. Renewal of the FSS registration/license well before expiry date to stay away from penalty for late submission. In the growing Indian market for homemade food products FSSAI license is mandatory. It ensures legal compliance and food safety guidelines and pursue expansion and expansion. 1. How to get FSSAI registration to sell homemade products in India? The steps to obtain FSS registration to sell homemade products in India are as follows: a) Select the kind of Registration to sell homemade products in India are as follows: a) Select the kind of Registration to sell homemade products in India? The steps to obtain FSS registration to sell homemade products in India are as follows: a) Select the kind of Registration (less than Rs. Twelve lakhs), State License (Rs. Twelve Lakhs - to Rs. 20 crores), or Central License (over Rs. (20 crores)). b) Prepare the identity proof, address proof and business incorporation documents (in case application Form A for Basic Registration fee. e) Apply on the internet or offline in the FSSAI office. f) Wait for your application to get processed (fifteen to forty five days)
g) Renew the registration before it expires. 2. Are there requirements or criteria for homemade product sellers to register with FSSAI: a) The food preparation workspace should be hygienic and clean, provided with air flow, regular and light cleaning. b) Clean water and methods to stay away from contamination of equipment and utensils. c) Protection of workers (aprons, hairnets and gloves) and emphasis on personal hygiene. 3. What documents are needed to apply for FSS registration to sell homemade products are: a) Identity proof (Aadhaar, Voter ID, Driving License or Passport) b) Address proof c) Business incorporation papers (when appropriate) d) Rental/lease agreement pertaining to use of premises e) FSSAI declaration forms 4. How long does it take to get FSS registration to sell homemade products & what's the validity period? Following application and supporting documents it takes 15 to forty five days to obtain FSS registration for selling homemade products. Validity period of FSS registration type and FSSAI office guidelines. 5. Are small scale homemade products sellers exempt from FSS registration requirements in India? No, small scale homemade product sellers are not subjected to FSS registration (FSSAI) is the regulatory body that enforces the Food Safety and Standards Act, 2006, and the FSS Regulations, 2011, to ensure the standardization and safety of a vast range of food products, including those sold in restaurants and by home bakers. Home bakers and cottage industries that cater to consumers' needs from their own residences fall under the purview of FSSAI regulations. Thus, such businesses should ensure that they are registered with FSSAI to comply with food safety standards and provide their customers with safe and hygienic food products. Guidelines for FSSAI are established to ensure that food businesses comply with the necessary standards and regulations. These guidelines cover everything from obtaining the appropriate licenses and permits to maintaining food hygiene and safety. All food businesses must register or obtain a food license from FSSAI mandates that food businesses comply with its regulations for food safety and hygiene.
Businesses must maintain a record of the source of ingredients, their storage conditions, and the manufacturing process. All food products must display appropriate labelling information, including ingredients, nutritional information, and manufacturing dates. Food businesses must assure that their products are free from adulteration and contamination. FSSAI regularly conducts inspections and audits to ensure compliance with its guidelines. Benefits Of FSSAI Registration for Homemade Food Business's ability to operate legally, establish credibility, guarantee the quality and safety of its products, expand its customer base, and facilitate growth. FSSAI Registration is particularly beneficial for homemade food businesses in attracting investments, whether through businesses in attracting investments, and facilitate food businesses in attracting investments. safety of their food, which is crucial in building a sustainable customer base. How To Get FSSAI For Homemade Food The FSSAI issues food license certificates in three different categories, each corresponding to the scale of the business. Businesses must apply for the proper license based on their production capacity. The three types of food license certificates are: Basic FSSAI Registration Startups and Small businesses that have an annual turnover of less than Rs. 12 lakhs are eligible for the Basic FSSAI permit. This type of permit is adequate for small enterprises, including online home kitchen businesses. If your online home kitchen businesses that have an annual turnover of less than Rs. 12 lakhs, you Photographs Business Details FSSAI Declaration Form State FSSAI Food License Registration For businesses with annual revenue between Rs. 12 lakhs and Rs. 20 crores, a state-level FSSAI license or certificate is mandatory. This license is also applicable to online home kitchens that provide food and generate revenue exceeding the mentioned threshold. To apply for this food license, businesses need to fill out Form B, which is required to be submitted to the concerned state of authority. To apply for state FSSAI registration, the following paperwork is needed: Rental/Lease Agreement for Business Premises Identification Proof of Business Owner (Aadhar Card/Voter ID/Driving License/Passport) Incorporation Certificate/GST Registration/Trading License Memorandum of Association (MOA) and Articles of Association (MOA) small enterprises that generate more than Rs. 20 crores in revenue. If your company's annual revenue exceeds Rs. 20 crores, you are required to apply for a Central food license to a Central food license. Documents for central FSSAI food license registration are: Proof of business premises, such as rental or lease agreement. Identity proof of the business owner, such as Aadhar, Voter ID, Driving License, or Passport. Incorporation certificate, GST registration, or trade license. Import and export code, if applicable. Memorandum of Association (MOA) and Articles of Association (AOA). List of business partners, if applicable. Business details. FSSAI declaration forms. FSSAI declaration forms. FSSAI declaration forms. FSSAI declaration forms. FSSAI declaration forms. your annual revenue to determine which type of FSSAI licence you need to Choose the appropriate license for your homemade food business: Depending on your annual revenue, select either a Basic FSSAI licence, or Central FSSAI L application form (Form A for Basic Registration, Form B for State Licence or Central Licence) and submit any necessary documents such as business details, ID proof of the owner, incorporation certificate, FSSAI declaration forms, etc. Settle the fee: Pay the appropriate fee for the selected licensing type. Update Application Form: If there are any errors in your application or any changes in your business details, you should update the form within 30 days and resubmit it to the portal. Any inaccurate information may lead to the cancellation of your registration. Monitor the approve your license, during which time you should monitor the status of your application on the FoSCoS portal. At Lawgical India, we specialize in FSSAI for homemade food. With our help, you can relax knowing that your company is in capable hands and complies with all FSSAI regulations. Contact us today to learn about how we help your homemade food business thrive. India's food sector has seen tremendous growth in the last few years. Many more people are using online portals like Mealawe to order food anytime, anywhere. You may have seen people selling food online and are tempted to do the same, you may have some questions. You may wonder - Do I need any license to sell homemade food? How much does a food license cost?Read on as we answer these questions about selling homemade food. Though homemade food business in India. Obtaining this license is critical to an F&B operation making less than Rs 12 Lakh annual turnover. Other than the FSSAI license, if you are planning to do homemade food business in a bigger scale, then you may also need these licenses -If you employ more than ten people for your business, you are running the business. Since the food you make at home directly impacts the consumers' health, your homemade food business requires a health trade license is given by the Municipal Corporation or the state's health department. Homemade food business requires a health trade license is given by the Municipal Corporation or the state's health trade license. This health trade license is given by the Municipal Corporation or the state's health trade license. environmental impact. So you need an environmental clearance license from the Pollution Board of your state. You need a signage license from your business, you will need this license before you put any sticker or label of your business on your dabbas. Before you start any business from your home, you need a no-objection certificate from your resident's welfare society. The nearby residents may raise objections if you do not take this NOC. Note - You only require FSSAI license if your turnover is less than Rs. 12 LakhsOpen FSSAI's online portal, FosCos, and create an account with them. Once you have created the account, navigate to the left section of the home page and select 'New application' from the drop-down menu. You need to fill out application form B is for those food businesses with a turnover of more than 12 Lakhs. After you have filled up the FSSAI form with the necessary personal and business Operator Proof of ownership of the Premises Partnership Deed Certificate of Incorporation List of food items the unit will process Declaration Form Authority letter Form IXOnce you have completed the filing procedure, the FSSAI officials will proceed with the verification process. An officer may also visit your place of business and verify before you are issued the license. The FSSAI license is valid for one to five years. As a homemade food seller, you need to apply for the renewal of your license 30 days before the date of expiry of your license. You have to pay a penalty of Rs. 100 per day if you apply after your license may pay a fine of up to Rs 5 lakh and be imprisoned for up to 6 months. Some other penalties include -Any food business selling misbranded products will be fined up to Rs. 5 lakhs. Any food business selling misbranded products will be fined up to Rs. 5 lakhs. Any food business selling misbranded products will be fined up to Rs. 5 lakhs. Any food business selling misbranded products will be fined up to Rs. 5 lakhs. Any food business selling misbranded products will be fined up to Rs. 5 lakhs. Any food business selling misbranded products will be fined up to Rs. 5 lakhs. Any food business selling misbranded products will be fined up to Rs. 5 lakhs. Any food business selling misbranded products will be fined up to Rs. 6 lakhs. Any food business selling misbranded products will be fined up to Rs. 8 lakhs. Any food business selling misbranded products will be fined up to Rs. 9 lakhs. Any food business selling misbranded products will be fined up to Rs. 9 lakhs. Any food business selling misbranded products will be fined up to Rs. 9 lakhs. Any food business selling misbranded products will be fined up to Rs. 9 lakhs. Any food business selling misbranded products will be fined up to Rs. 9 lakhs. Any food business selling misbranded products will be fined up to Rs. 9 lakhs. Any food business selling misbranded products will be fined up to Rs. 9 lakhs. Any food business selling misbranded products will be fined up to Rs. 9 lakhs. Any food business selling misbranded products will be fined up to Rs. 9 lakhs. Any food business selling misbranded products will be fined up to Rs. 9 lakhs. Any food business selling misbranded products will be fined up to Rs. 9 lakhs. Any food business selling misbranded products will be fined up to Rs. 9 lakhs. Any food business selling misbranded products will be fined up to Rs. 9 lakhs. Any food business selling misbranded products will be fined up to Rs. 9 lakhs. Any food business selling misbranded products will be fined up to Rs. 9 lakhs. Misbranded products will be fined up to Rs. 9 lakhs. Misbranded products will be fined up to Rs. 9 lakhs. Misbra business operator is held responsible. Depending on the severity, the business owner can be fined up to Rs. 5 lakh or even imprisonment. While selling homemade food is a lucrative business, you do need to follow specific regulations, the sky is the limit for your business. Home based food production is very wide spread business now. Low investement, flexibility is the main reasons for people choose this mode of business. FSSAI license or registration also very much mandatory documents for home based food production in order to address the legal requirement. Type of FSSAI license would vary based on the type and scale of the home based food business Basic FSSAI Registration The Food Standards and Safety Authority of India (FSSAI) is the supreme authority which is responsible for regulating and supervising the food safety. So it is mandatory to take FSSAI Basic Registration as per the law. Here we discuss about basic registration, Small businesses or startups having annual turnover below Rs.12 lakhs can apply for basic FSSAI Food safety registration. As operations scale up and turnover reaches Rs. 12 lakh bar, the basic registration will need to be upgraded to state license. As the name said it is very basic registration so it won't be enough for large business firm FSSAI Food safety Registration is mandatory for anyone who intends to do food business. This not only involves preparing food but everyone who handles food at various stages before it ultimately reaches the customer like raw materials, Manufacturing, processing, Mess, Canteen packing and the distribution as well as the agencies who have authority to sell them. Our expert professionals having specialized knowledge in food safety Registration procedure flexible to our valuable clients. Team FSSAI INDIA FSSAI Food safety Registration guarantee that you can experience professional approach from our staffs that make everything hassle free. Required Documents for the procedure flexible to our valuable clients.
Basic FSSAI Registration Authorized person address proof Passport size photo Business name and address Fssai declaration form Nature of business details State FSSAI License Registration The Food Standards and Safety. So it is mandatory to take FSSAI Food safety License Registration as per the law. Here we discuss about FSSAI state license. Businesses having annual turnover between Rs.12 lakhs to 20 crore can apply for FSSAI state license. Food business operators like small to medium-sized manufacturers, storage units, Transporters, Retailers, Restaurants Marketers distributors etc. are however required to obtain the FSSAI State License Registration. FSSAI License is mandatory for anyone who handles food at various stages before it ultimately reaches the customer like raw materials, manufacturing, processing, Restaurants packing and the distribution as well as the agencies who have authority to sell them Our expert professionals having specialized knowledge in food safety license procedure make the procedure flexible to our valuable clients. Team FSSAI INDIA Registration and Licensing consultants guarantee that you can experience professional approach from our staffs that make everything hassle free. Required Documents for State FSSAI License / Passport / Voter ID) If any Government Registration Certificates (Company Incorporation Certificate / Firm Registration / Partnership Deed / Pan card / GST Registration Number / Shop and Establishment Registration / Trade License) If the applicant is private limited company or partnership firm then they should provide MOA & AOA or Partnership deed copy For applying State License any One of the following certificate is compulsory (Trade license, Shop and Establishment Registration, Panchayath License, Corporation License, Municipality License) Nature of Business. Fssai declaration form If you are applying for Manufacturing unit photos Plant Layouts. Machinery details use for production in your company letterhead (Capacity & Horse Power details) Product details in company Letter head. Central FSSAI License Registration The Food Standards and Safety Authority of India (FSSAI) is the supreme authority which is responsible for regulating and supervising the food safety. So it is mandatory to take FSSAI Food safety License as per the law. Here we discuss about FSSAI central license. Businesses having annual turnover above 20 crore can apply for FSSAI central license. Eligible food Business Operators like Importers, operators in central government, Railways, airports, seaports, etc. need to take a Central FSSAI license from Food Standards and Safety Authority of India. Our expert professionals having specialized knowledge in food safety license procedure make the procedure flexible to our valuable clients. Team FSSAI INDIA Registration and Licensing consultants guarantee that you can experience professional approach from our staffs that make everything hassle free. Required Documents for FSSAI Central License Rental Agreement of Business Premises. ID Proof of the Concerned Person (Aadhaar Card / Driving License / Passport / Voter ID) If any Government Registration Certificates ( Company Incorporation Certificates ( Company Incorporation / Trade License) If the applicant is private limited company or partnership firm then they should provide MOA & AOA or Partnership deed copy. IE Code (Import Export Code) Certificate.(for the category of export and import IE code is compulsory) Authorized to file FSSAI application. List of food category desired to be manufactured (Innort Export Code) case of manufacturers). If you are applying for manufacturing category please arrange below other documents. Manufacturing unit photos Plant Layouts & Product details. Machinery details use for production in your company letterhead (Capacity & Horse Power details) In case if your business in to mineral water plant then water test report compulsory. FSSAI Stands for "Food Safety and Standard Authority of India. FSSAI is an Independent organization under the Ministry of Health. FSSAI Registration or License. Maintaining the food quality levels in order to ensure safety and providing satisfaction to every consumer is the aim of every Food Business Operator. Food safety and standards authority of India (FSSAI Registration) plays an important role in formulating the controlling procedures. There are 4 steps including fssai license registration procedure that are following:- Selection of kind of business Selection of food category Selection of type of license Documentation Issue of certificate Common documents required for obtaining FSSAI registration: FSSAI declaration Photo Identity of FBO Proof of possession of premises (eg. Rental Agreement ) Partnership Deed / Certificate of Incorporation / Articles of Association etc. List of food products to be dealt with. Food safety management system plan Basic registration: It includes business having turnover up to 12 lakh in a year State license; business having turnover between 12 lakh to 20 cr in a year comes under central license; business having turnover between 12 lakh to 20 cr in a year comes under state license; business having turnover between 12 lakh in a year State license; business having turnover above 20 cr in a year State license; business having turnover above 20 cr in a year State license; business having turnover above 20 cr in a year State license; business having turnover above 20 cr in a year State license; business having turnover above 20 cr in a year State license comes under central license; business having turnover above 20 cr in a year State license comes under central licens license To continue the business it is required to be renewed before the expiry of the FSSAI License or registration Expiry date. It is mandatory for the following individuals or entities to obtain FSSAI Registration or License as per the rules and regulation of the Food Safety and Standard Act, 2006: All types of Food Manufacturers Food Packaging unit Food Storage unit Wholesale food business Operator Caters or Hotel It is related to the FSSAI Department it works to farming rules regarding the food related articles and completion of the policies. It also provide the technical and scientific support to the central government regarding the food related articles and it act as collection of the food related data consumption with general consciousness about the Food Standards and Food Standards information about the manufacturer license FSSAI number provides the registration details FSSAI logo will be displayed by the brand owner with his license number and address of the importer in the case of the imported food product FSSAI has extended its scope to include the applications of e-commerce food services. This category includes delivery services such as Uber Eats, Swiggy and Zomato and online grocery stores such as amazon, Big Basket, etc. Of late, the food e-commerce sector has grown tremendously. As these platforms operate widely, it is important for these services to ensure compliance with FSSAI. One we submitted application for basic registration, state license or central license with proper documents after that our application will approve. If any mistakes in the application the concerned food officer will send back the application for editing with the Reason. After that we want to clarify and submit if any further documents required. Then Application will get approved. Only Merchant Exporter can file Quarterly annual report through online system FBO manufacturing Milk and/or Milk products shall file half yearly return in the Form D-2 and submit it manually to the
to the concerned Central/State licensing Authority for the periods 1st April to 30th September and 1st October to 31st March of every financial within a month from the end of the period (Manufacturers and Importers) have to file Annual Return (Form D-1) and submit it manually to the concerned Central/State licensing Authority on or before 31st May of each year for each class of food handled by him during the previous financial year. Registrations are granted by the Registering Authority who may be Designated Officer or any official in Panchayat, Municipal Corporation or any other local body or Panchayat in an area, notified by the State Food Safety Commissioner Documents required while applying for a Registration: Application in Schedule-1 Fees @Rs. 100/- per annum Address proof (Government documents like Voter ID card) Photograph of applicant Registration Card should be exhibited at a prominent place of business premise. Food Business Operator operating in more than two States has to get Central License for its registered Office and separate license/Registration for each units depending upon the capacity/ turnover from the concerned State/ Central Licenseing Authority. FSSAI license/Registration for food premises under Railways are issued by the Railways Designated Officers/FSO notified by Food Authority from time to time is not provided within the stipulated time of 30 days Any change that alters the information contained in the license certificate (Form C) shall apply for modification of non Form C details. An importer cannot submit another application with same IEC code that he has already submitted until and unless he deletes the incomplete/application already submitted Consumers can register their complaints and feedbacks about food, safety issues related to adulterated food, unsafe food, substandard food, labelling defects in food and misleading claims & advertisements related to various food products. Dairy units including chilling units- handle or process more than 50,000 litres of liquid milk per day or 2500MT of milk solid per annum. Vegetable oil processing units and units producing vegetable oil by the process of solvent extraction and refineries including oil expeller unit having installed capacity more than 2 MT per day. All slaughter houses equipped to slaughter more than 50 large animals or 150 or more small animals including sheep and goats or 1000 or more small animals including sheep and goats or 150 MT per annum. All food processing units other than 50 large animals or 150 meat per day. mentioned under (a) to (d) including relabellers and repackers having installed capacity more than 2 MT/day except grains, cereals and pulses milling units. 100 % Export Oriented Units. All Importers importing food items including food items include food items include food items include food items include food items includ containing ingredients or substances or using technologies or processes or combination thereof whose safety has not been established through these regulations or which do not have a history of safe use or food containing ingredients which are being introduced for the first time into the country. Food Business Operator operating in two or more states. Food catering services in establishments and units under Central government Agencies like Railways, Air and airport, Seaport, Defence etc. Storage units other than those having controlled atmosphere and cold environment having capacity of more than 10,000 MT.
Controlled Atmosphere + Cold Storage having turnover of more than Rs.20 crores per annum. Retailers having turnover of more than Rs.20 crores per annum. Suppliers having turnover of more than Rs.20 crores per annum.
Caterers having turnover of more than Rs.20 crores per annum. Hotels - Five Star & Above. Restaurants having turnover of more than Rs.20 crores per annum. Transporters having turnover of more than Rs.20 crores per annum. Starting a home-based food business in India is an excellent opportunity for beginners. To gain an FSSAI license, ensure food safety and compliance with government regulations. The Food Safety and Standards Authority of India (FSSAI) mandates food businesses, including home kitchens, to register or obtain a license based on their scale of operations. (Registration is mandatory only if turnover exceeds ₹12 lakh. Small businesses below ₹12 lakh need registration but not a license.)In this blog, we will cover everything you need to know about FSSAI registration, the process of applying for a food license make ensure food safety and compliance with government regulations. Why is an FSSAI License Required for a Home-Based Food Business? FSSAI certification does not ensure food safety but sets regulatory standards. Its also help legal operations and build customer trust, and prevent legal issues in the future. Here's why your home-based food business needs an FSSAI license:FSSAI requirements for home-based food startups ensure compliance with homemade food rules. Builds trust and credibility with customers. Makes it easier to sell food online or through food aggregators like Zomato and Swiggy. Helps avoid penalties and legal actions from food safety authorities. Types of FSSAI Licenses for Home-Based Food BusinessesThe type of food safety registration required depends on the scale of operations:FSSAI Basic Registration: Needed for businesses with an annual turnover between ₹12 lakhs and ₹20 crores.FSSAI Central License: It is required for businesses with turnover above ₹20 crore or those operating in multiple states. For home-based food businesses, Basic Registration is sufficient. Step-by-Step Guide to Getting an FSSAI Basic Registration or requires a State License based on expected turnover. Step 2: Gather Required DocumentsTo apply for an FSSAI license for a home-based food business, you will need: Identity proof (Aadhar Card, PAN Card, Voter ID) Address proof (Electricity bill, Rent Agreement, etc.) Passport-sized photographDetails of the food products you plan to sellBusiness constitution documents (if applicable) Declaration form stating food safety compliance System (FoSCoS) portal: the appropriate license type (Basic, State, or Central). Fill out the application form with business and personal details. Upload the necessary documents. Pay the registration fee online. Submit the application and track the status online. Step 4: Inspection officer may visit your home kitchen to check hygiene and safety standards. (For Basic Registration, inspections are generally not conducted unless there are complaints.) Step 5: Get Your FSSAI LicenseOnce approved, you will receive the FSSAI registration certificate within 7 to 30 days. The validity can be from 1-5 years, but it depends on the duration chosen at the time of application. Do Home Bakers in India Need an FSSAI? Yes! Even home bakers selling cakes cookies, or other homemade goods need an FSSAI registration. The process remains the same as mentioned above. (Only if annual sales exceed ₹12 lakh, otherwise no registration: ₹100 per year (but state governments and sales exceed ₹12 lakh, otherwise no registration is mandatory.) may apply additional charges.)State License: ₹2,000 - ₹5,000 per yearCentral License: ₹7,500 per yearFor most small food businessesTo maintain compliance, follow these key home kitchen FSSAI rules:Maintain hygiene and cleanliness in the kitchen. Ensure proper packaging and labeling of food products. Display your FSSAI license number on packaging and promotional materials. Keep records of raw materials and suppliers. Avoid When Applying for an FSSAI License Selecting the wrong license type (Basic, State, or preservatives. Common Mistakes to Avoid When Applying for an FSSAI License selecting the wrong license type (Basic, State, or preservatives.) Central). The most common mistake is choosing the wrong license type, as it leads to rejection. Not renewing the FSSAI license on time. Ignoring FSSAI compliance and food businesses undergoes periodic updates. In 2025, key updates include: Mandatory online registration through the FoSCoS portal. Increased food safety inspections for home-based food sellers. Stricter labeling norms, including ingredient disclosure and expiry dates. Faster approval process for small-scale food businesses. Conclusion Starting to operate your food business at home presents an exciting opportunity that requires you to follow essential legal requirements. The FSSAI online application method in combination with proper food safety practices and updated knowledge about homemade food regulations wil help you develop a successful food brand from your home. The epidemic-imposed guarantine has given rise to a number of skilled home cooks and bakers. You must be aware of and obtain an FSSAI may also ban your compan be subject to a severe fine of up to Rs. 5 lakhs. Learn everything there is to know about FSSAI Registration before you sell handmade products in India. What is FSSAI, is in charge of policing India's food businesses and industry. It is a distinct entity that answers directly to the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare of the Indian government. The Food Safety and Standards Act, 2006 (FSS Act), a single piece of legislation that governs all facets of food regulation in India. Food items are put through rigorous testing to stop the distribution of subpar products and food tampering. It is responsible for registering and issuing licences to Food Business Operators (FBO), as well as setting the standards for the Indian food business. What is FSSAI Registration?
Before they can legally produce, prepare, store, distribute, or sell food, firms dealing with food in India are required to obtain some sort of registration or licence, according to the Food Safety and Standards Authority of India (FSSAI). A Food Business Operator (FBO) may be required to register with the FSSAI, known as Basic FSSAI Registration, or to obtain a licence from the organisation, known as FSSAI License, depending on the size and nature of operations. It is a 14-digit registration procedure is meant to give FBOs more accountability for maintaining the uniformity and safety of their food products. The procedure and requirements for getting a licence or registration for a food business are governed by the Food Safety & Standards Regulations, 2011. Importance of FSSAI or receive a basic registration. You will require an FSSAI License if your annual sales over Rs 12 lakh. Subsets can be found even within the licence to those with annual sales over Rs 20 Crore; those with annual sales over Rs 20 Crore must apply to the Central FSSAI office. The licence that was granted to you after the registration process is complete is only good for usage in the state where the licence was initially sought; it cannot be used in any other state. The length of the FSSAI registration must be submitted by businesses that sell homemade products 30 days before their FSSAI licence expires. A fine of Rs. 100 per day will be assessed for late submission of the registration renewal. According to the Food Safety and Standards Act of 2006, anyone selling homemade products without the required registration faces a punishment of up to Rs 2 Lakh. Key Points to remember for Homemade Food Products Business in India as per FSSAI Standards Keep the space where the food is prepared clean at all times. Air, light, and regular cleaning must all be available in appropriate amounts. Water that is clean must be accessible. In order to avoid the buildup of dirt and bacteria on the kitchen utensils, all procedures must be followed. To use the cleanest equipment possible, every effort must be made. Access to protective gear, including clean aprons, hard hats, and gloves, is necessary for workers. Personal hygiene must be emphasised. Why is FSSAI License Important for homemade products? The Ministry of Health and Family Welfare is where the Food Safety and Standard Authority of India (FSSAI) operates. The FSSAI certificate guarantees the food you produce is secure and hygienic. It consists of a meal preparation business as well as a food delivery, distribution, catering, and retailing operation. To obtain the FSSAI certificate, FoSCos (Food Safety Compliance) was established by FSSAI. Online home kitchens must register with the FSSAI certificate, they won't be able to operate their firm. Swiggy and Zomato greatly aid the delivery of orders from online home kitchens. However, these platforms forbid third parties from listing their product without an FSSAI accreditation can help you take your business to the next level while also helping you meet regulatory requirements: Create a trustworthy brand for your online homemade food products by focusing on quality. Any legal proceeding involving your company will be simple and successful thanks to your FSSAI licensing logo. Your FSSAI licensing logo. Your FSSAI license can attract investments and simplify the loan application process. How to get FSSAI License for homemade products? FSSAI food licence certificates come in three different varieties. You must apply based on your business cap. These three licence types are: Basic FSSAI Registration or FSSAI certificate: For startups and small businesses, basic FSSAI permits are available. Such enterprises should have a turnover of less than Rs. 12 lakhs, You must fill out Form A for a Basic FSSAI registration/FSSAI certificate. You must update your food licence from Basic FSSAI registration to state FSSAI registration whenever your business's annual revenue reaches Rs. 12 lakhs. Documents required: Address proof

Passport size photos

Business details FSSAI declaration form State FSSAI registration or FSSAI certificate: Let's talk about the state-level food permit. Businesses with annual revenue of between Rs. 12 lakh and Rs. 20 crores are required to obtain a state-issued FSSAI licence or certificate. The state will issue a food licence to any online home kitchen that provides food and generates revenue exceeding the aforementioned threshold. Fill out Form B in order to apply for this food licence.
Documents Required: Documents of business premises (Rental/Lease agreement) ID proof of the business owner (Aadhar/Voter ID/ Driving License/ Passport) Incorporation Certificate/ GST Registration/ Trading License/ Municipality (Corporation License/ Municipality) Incorporation Certificate/ GST Registration/ Trading License/ Driving License/ Driv Business details FSSAI declaration forms Central FSSAI food License Registration or FSSAI certificate: The nationwide chains of online home kitchens are covered by the Central FSSAI food license. Even small enterprises that manage to generate more than Rs. 20 Crores fall into this group. You should apply for a Central food licence if your company's annual revenue exceeds Rs. 20 crores. Your mid-cap business must upgrade from a State food licence to a Central food licence if its annual revenue exceeds Rs. 20 crores. Fill out Form B to apply for this food licence if your company's annual revenue exceeds Rs. 20 crores. Fill out Form B to apply for this food licence if your company's annual revenue exceeds Rs. 20 crores. Fill out Form B to apply for this food licence if your company's annual revenue exceeds Rs. 20 crores. Fill out Form B to apply for this food licence if your company's annual revenue exceeds Rs. 20 crores. Fill out Form B to apply for this food licence if your company's annual revenue exceeds Rs. 20 crores. Fill out Form B to apply for this food licence if your company's annual revenue exceeds Rs. 20 crores. Fill out Form B to apply for this food licence if your company's annual revenue exceeds Rs. 20 crores.
Business Owner (Aadhar/ Voter ID/ Driving License/Passport) Incorporation Certificate/GST Registration/Trade License/ Municipality License. Any one of them. List of business partners, if applicable. Business details FSSAI declaration forms Procedure to get FSSAI Certificate for homemade products 1. Prepare a business plan. 2. Find out what your yearly turnover is. 3. Choose the application and any required paperwork. 5. Settling the fee 6. Send the application form to portal 7. You should exercise caution if there is any inaccurate information in your application. FSSAI may cancel your registration. The form must be updated if there are any changes that need to be made. The amended form must be updated if there are any changes that need to be made. The amended form must be updated if there are any changes that need to be made. The amended form must be updated if there are any changes that need to be made.
and a half months. You must continually monitor the process to identify any inconsistencies. You might believe that going through all of these hoops to obtain an FSSAI certificate is challenging. But contacting a consultancy can make it simple. The market leader in terms of services for registering FSSAI licence certificates is Online Legal India. Our specialist will handle all the things that need to be done for you to obtain FSSAI registration. With the assistance of Online Legal India, you may complete the FSSAI registration for selling Homemade products By obtaining the proper FSSAI Registration, and receive your FSSAI registration. food business is better able to operate legally, establish a reputation, ensure the quality and safety of its products, grow its clientele, and facilitate its expansion. It is simpler for food businesses to attract financing, whether in the form of businesses to attract financing, whether in the form of businesses to attract financing, whether in the form of businesses to attract financing, whether in the form of businesses to attract financing.
businesses that sell homemade food products because it demonstrates to customers that they value their food, two elements that are crucial for developing a loyal customer base. Conclusion To sum up, FSSAI Registration is necessary to run your home-based food business legally. To grow your business and increase your revenues, you must follow FSSAI regulations and obtain FSSAI registration. Furthermore, feel free to visit our Online Legal India website if you need assistance with the FSSAI registration. Homemade Food Businesses have been thriving, with individuals eager to share their culinary creations with others. Whether you're selling homemade snacks, pickles, chocolates, or any other delectable treats, ensuring food safety is paramount. This is where the Food Safety and Standards Authority of India (FSSAI) steps in. In this comprehensive guide, we'll explore everything you need to know about obtaining an FSSAI License for your homemade food business. From the registration process to the benefits and frequently asked questions, we'll cover it all. By the end of this guide, you'll be well-equipped to navigate the FSSAI registration journey and establish a trusted homemade food brand. FSSAI Registration journey and establish a trusted homemade food brand. FSSAI Registration is FSSAI registration.
Basic FSSAI Registration State FSSAI License Central FSSAI License Central FSSAI License Central FSSAI Registration Inspection and Verification Issuance of FSSAI Registration Inspection I
Registration Certificate Benefits of FSSAI Registration for Homemade Food Ensures Food Safety Builds Trust Among Customers Legal Compliance Expansion Opportunities FAQs (Frequently Asked Questions) Who Needs an FSSAI Licenses for Homemade Food Ensures Food Safety Builds Trust Among Customers Legal Compliance Expansion Opportunities FAQs (Frequently Asked Questions) Who Needs an FSSAI Licenses for Homemade Food Ensures Food Safety Builds Trust Among Customers Legal Compliance Expansion Opportunities FAQs (Frequently Asked Questions) Who Needs an FSSAI Licenses for Homemade Food Ensures Food Safety Builds Trust Among Customers Legal Compliance Expansion Opportunities FAQs (Frequently Asked Questions) Who Needs an FSSAI Licenses for Homemade Food Ensures Food Safety Builds Trust Among Customers Legal Compliance Expansion Opportunities FAQs (Frequently Asked Questions) Who Needs an FSSAI Licenses for Homemade Food Ensures Faque Customers Legal Compliance Expansion Opportunities FAQs (Frequently Asked Questions) Who Needs an FSSAI Licenses for Homemade Food Ensures Faque Customers Legal Compliance Expansion Opportunities FAQs (Frequently Asked Questions) Who Needs and Faque Customers Legal Compliance Expansion Opportunities FAQs (Frequently Asked Questions) Who Needs and Faque Customers Legal Customers Legal Compliance Expansion Opportunities FAQs (Frequently Asked Questions) Who Needs are Faque Customers Legal Customer Process Take? Can I Operate Without an FSSAI License for Homemade Food Online? Can I Register Multiple Homemade Food Products Under a Single License? What Are the Consequences of Non-Compliance with FSSAI Register Multiple Homemade Food Products Under a Single License? What Are the Consequences of Non-Compliance with FSSAI Register Multiple Homemade Food Products Under a Single License? What Are the Consequences of Non-Compliance with FSSAI Register Multiple Homemade Food Products Under a Single License?
Homemade Food? Can I Apply for a Central FSSAI License for My Homemade Food Business? Are There Any Exemptions or Relaxations for Small Homemade Food Businesses? Conclusion Ensuring Food Safety and Building Trust The Food Safety and Standards Authority of India (FSSAI) is an autonomous body under the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, Government of India. It was established to ensure the safety and quality of food products for the benefit of consumers. FSSAI sets the standards for food products and regulates their manufacture, storage, distribution, sale, and import to ensure they meet these standards for food products and regulates their manufacture, storage, distribution, sale, and import to ensure they meet these standards for food products for the benefit of consumers.
that deal with homemade food products. It ensures that the food products you prepare and sell meet specific safety and quality standards, safeguarding the health of consumers. Additionally, FSSAI registration and licenses based on the scale of operation and annual turnover of the food businesses, the following types are relevant: This is suitable for small-scale homemade food businesses with an annual turnover of up to ₹12 lakhs. It's the most straightforward form of FSSAI registration and is ideal for those who operate on a smaller scale. If your homemade food business has an annual turnover exceeding ₹12 lakhs but below ₹20 crores, you should opt for a state FSSAI licenses are for large-scale homemade food businesses with an annual turnover exceeding ₹20 crores. This is the most comprehensive form of FSSAI registration and is necessary for larger operations. The eligibility for each type of FSSAI registration is primarily based on the annual turnover of your homemade food business. It's important to accurately determine your turnover of your homemade food business. It's important to accurately determine your turnover of your homemade food business. It's important to accurately determine your turnover of your homemade food business. It's important to accurately determine your turnover of your homemade food business. It's important to accurately determine your turnover of your homemade food business. It's important to accurately determine your turnover of your homemade food business. It's important to accurately determine your turnover of your homemade food business. It's important to accurately determine your turnover of your homemade food business. It's important to accurately determine your turnover of your homemade food business. It's important to accurately determine your turnover of your homemade food business. It's important to accurately determine your turnover of your homemade food business. It's important to accurately determine your turnover of your homemade food business. It's important to accurately determine your turnover of your homemade food business. It's important to accurately determine your turnover of your homemade food business. It's important turnover of your homemade food License: Between ₹12 lakhs and ₹20 crores Central FSSAI Licenses: Over ₹20 crores Consider the scale of your homemade food business operations, as this will also determine the type of FSSAI registration, while larger operations require state or central licenses. To apply for FSSAI registration, you will need to submit certain documents. These typically include: PAN card of the business owner. Proof of ownership or possession of the business owner. Proof of ownership or possession of the business owner. Proof of ownership or possession of the business owner. Proof of ownership or possession of the business owner. Proof of ownership or possession of the business owner. Proof of ownership or possession of the business owner. Proof of ownership or possession of the business owner. Proof of ownership or possession of the business owner. Proof of ownership or possession of the business owner. Proof of ownership or possession of the business owner. Proof of ownership or possession of the business owner. Proof of ownership or possession of the business owner. Proof of ownership or possession of the business owner.
Details of the machinery and equipment used for food preparation. Provide a list of all the food products you intend to manufacture or trade. This is essential for determining the type of FSSAI registration involves several steps: Visit the Our website and create an account. Fill out the online application form with accurate details. Upload the necessary documents. After submitting your application, a designated support member will inspect your premises to ensure compliance with safety and hygiene standards. Once your application is approved and your premises to ensure compliance with safety and hygiene standards.
prominently displayed at your place of business. FSSAI registration ensures that your homemade food products meet specific safety and quality standards, protecting consumers from health risks. Having an FSSAI registration certificate enhances your homemade food brand's credibility and trustworthiness. Customers are more likely to purchase food products meet specific safety and guality standards, protecting consumers from health risks.
products from registered businesses. Operating with FSSAI registration, you can expand your homemade food business to new markets and distribution channels, including online sales and exports. Ans: Any individual or entity involved in the production and sale of homemade food products needs an FSSAI license if their annual turnover exceeds ₹12 lakhs. Ans: FSSAI offers three types of licenses: Basic, State, and Central, based on the scale of operation and annual turnover. Ans: The duration of the FSSAI registration process varies, but it typically takes a few weeks to a couple of months, depending on factors like inspection scheduling and document verification. Ans: No, it is illegal to sell homemade food products without the appropriate FSSAI license. Non-compliance can result in fines and penalties. Ans: Yes, you can register multiple food products under a single FSSAI license, provided they belong to the same category. Ans: Non-compliance can lead to penalties, suspension of the FSSAI license stypically require renewal annually. Ensure you renew your license on time to avoid disruptions in your business operations. Ans: You can apply for a Central FSSAI license if your homemade food businesses with an annual turnover below ₹12 lakhs are exempt from FSSAI registration. However, it's advisable to register voluntarily for credibility and safety
```

