Cadeiras para mesa de jantar com telinha

Very helpful guidance on requirements. Fair price and prompt deliveryDatum van ervaring: 22 april 2025After reading positive reviews I was excited to order from HM Chairs, and thought everything would go smoothly. I couldn't have been more wrong.My chair was dispatched 14 days after I ordered it. During these 14 days I received multiple emails telling me that the chair would be dispatched right away, and that the company had an unexpected number of orders, and all chairs are prepared individually to ensure quality.All of this turned out to be false. I suspect that they sold me a chair that wasn't in stock and that's why I had to wait so long, because when the chair finally arrived it was in a terrible state.I ordered the chrome aeron "fully loaded". Someone had sprayed most of the chrome components with silver spray paint, God knows why, and they'd apparently not masked anything off because the black plastic parts all have silver overspray on them! The chair smelt like motor oil and the whole thing felt oily to the touch.I spent over an hour cleaning it with soapy water, which I had to change about 5 times as it got filthy. I was also able to rub most of the silver spray paint off the chrome parts, but unfortunately it won't come off the plastic. I told the seller about all of this via email and gave them the opportunity to make it right however they wish, but a week later I've heard nothing.Overall this was one of the most disappointing shopping experiences I've ever had.Datum van ervaring: 07 april 2025Hi,Thank you for your feedback, and we're sorry to hear that you were disappointed with your experience.We'd like to clarify a few points for the sake of transparency. Your order was placed with our 7-10 working day dispatch option, which was selected at checkout. We informed you in advance that there would be a slight delay due to a temporary surge in orders, and we kept you updated throughout the process with multiple emails explaining the situation.As for the condition of the chair, we take quality control seriously and were surprised to hear your report. All of our refurbished chairs are cleaned, checked, and tested prior to dispatch. The chair you received was listed as refurbished, and some minor cosmetic signs of use are always expected — however, if the condition fell below standard, we absolutely would have worked to resolve this.We reached out to you promptly after receiving your message, offering to make things right, but unfortunately, we have not received a reply from you since. We are still happy to assist and resolve this if you wish to re-engage with us.While we understand your frustration, we feel that some elements of your review may not reflect the full context of the order. Nonetheless, we value all feedback and continuously aim to improve based on it.Kind regards,AdamHM ChairsFriendly and professional service delivered promptlyDatum van ervaring: 03 april 2025The chair I received had a defect so I let them know and they set up a return and refund promptly.
