We are learning about compound sentences.

Compound sentences

A compound sentence is formed when you join two main clauses with a conjunction. In a compound sentence the clauses are linked by coordinating conjunctions (and, but, so, or, nor, for, yet).

Match and make compound sentences. Then add alternatives for the word said. Add a conjunction.

Jump on my back.	or jump on his back.
Come with me.	but I won't hurt you.
Don't listen to Fox.	and I'll make you fly again.
I'll carry you in my mouth.	and I can run faster than the wind.
I can run faster than Dog.	so you can be free.

and, because, because

1. Dog invited Fox back into the cave for breakfast. He looked hungry.

and that because

Independent clause – makes sense by itself.

Dog invited Fox back into the cave for breakfast because he looked hungry.

Dependent clause – adds detail.

Make a complex sentence by matching the main clause and the dependent clause.

You'll never fly again.	because she had a burnt wing.
Come with me.	When he reached the wilderness.
Dog took Magpie back to his cave.	that flickered like a tongue on fire.
Fox shook Magpie off his back.	if you don't leave Dog's cave or his friendship!
Fox had a rich red coat and a tongue.	because I can run faster than the wind.

You'll never fly again if you don't leave Dog's cave or his friendship!

Complex sentences

The independent clause makes sense on its own.

Conjunctions used in complex sentences include after, when, because, if, as, that, although, until, since, unless

Possessive Apostrophes

I know when I need to use an apostrophe to show possession. I can use possessive apostrophes correctly.

1. Rewrite each sentence below so it includes an apostrophe to show possession. The first one has been done for you.

a) Conor is looking at the bike which belongs to Isla.

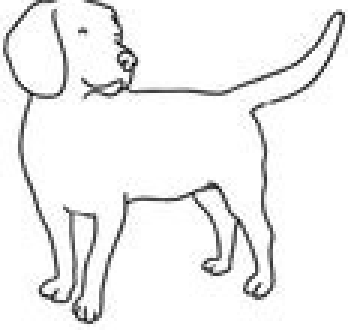

Conor is looking at Isla's bike.

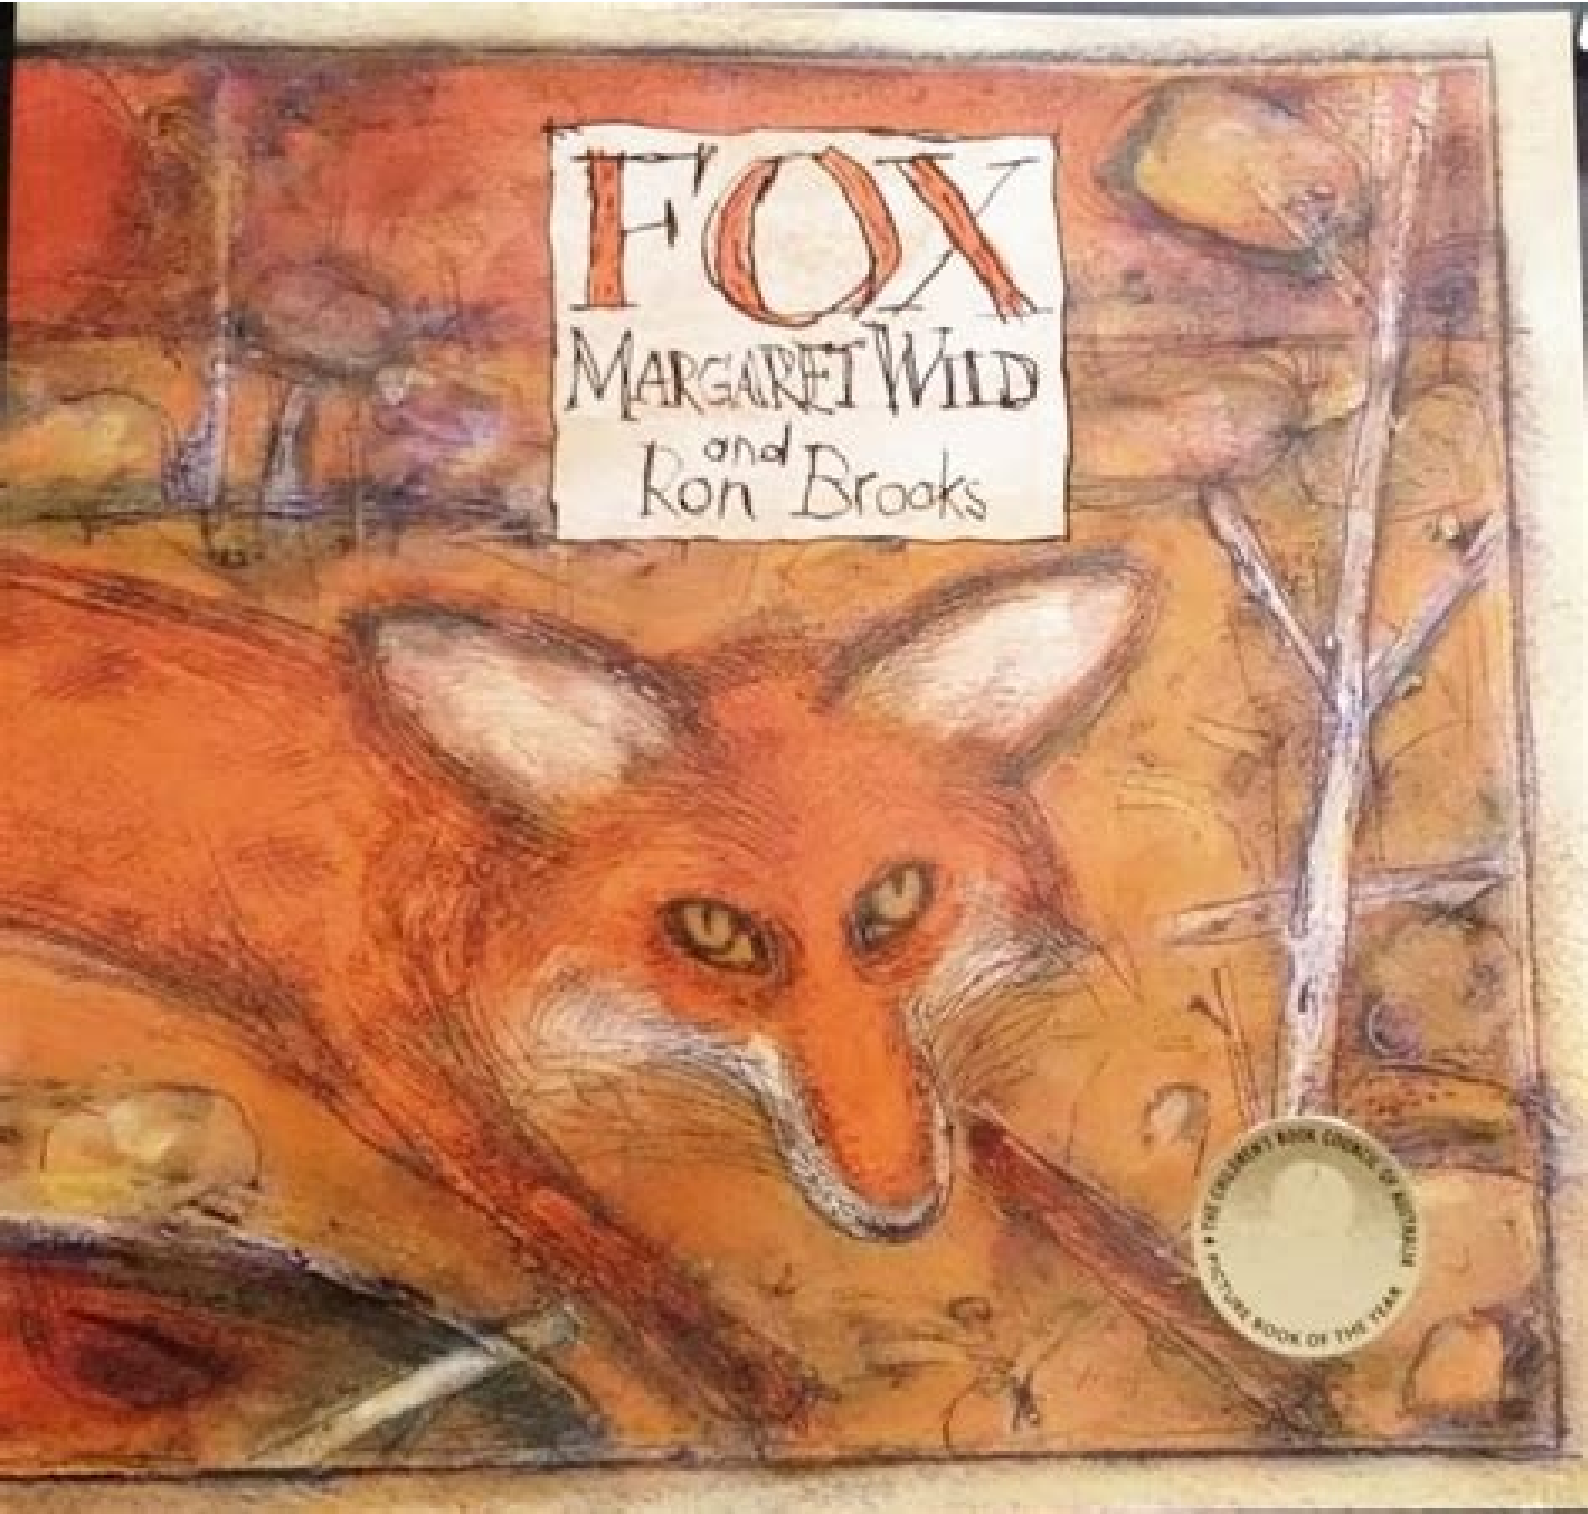

b) The coat which belongs to Martin is hanging up in the hall.

c) The car that belongs to Laiba is the fastest car.

d) We all like playing with the dog that belongs to Lok.

e) The kittens which belong to Jack are very cute.
