Foster's home for imaginary friends cheese episode and season

House of Louise (formerly) Foster à "è s for friends imaginary chocolate milk, potatoes, sweets, games and cereals Candi Milo (English) Tara Strong (in cartoon Network Punch Time Explosion) Cheese is a friend imaginá Cartoon Network River Television Television Foster home for imaginary friends who are expressed by Candi Milo. He made his first appearance in the episode "Mac Daddy". Cheese is often known repeating words in fast succession, screaming, whining or making high noises. One of his most famous quads is: "I like chocolate milk", which, like your homónimo, is irion because it is apparently intolerant to lactose. Appearance it is light yellow in color and somewhat human in fansical structure in which it has a head, a trunk, two arms, two legs and a disk-shaped head that reminiscent of Pac-Man. His head is too big in proportion to his body, his left seems to be back when he stopped if he is screaming, moaning or laughing. When not paying attention to nothing, his eyes are crossed or looking into two different directions. His pupils are red in color, and a pupil is slightly greater than the other. When he speaks, his mouth opens in two different ways: the way the mouth of all others on the show does or as an opening of the lid. Personality that he was imagined by the next neighbor of Mac, Louise, but his episode of striver was centered around the imprecise belief that he had been imagined by Mac. He has a variety of disturbances, including gingivitis. The cheese is usually portrayed as very indeligated, as it gets confused too long, and does not pay attention or hears others. He can also be very annoying to sometimes for others. Because of this, most of the characters find it to be an incidence. It often gives inconsistent information, as if refer to all drinks as "chocolate milk". He also does not seem to understand when other characters say he does not live in Foster's, or when they tell him to go home. Simply put, cheese seems to be unable to process simple information. However, cheese can be smarter than appears. In the big cheese, cheese is able to constantly enter the house in some way, it memorizes the code for the security system based on the sound tones, despite listening only the code once, and he knew how to disable the New security system soon after Frankie Armed. The cheese likes many things, including chocolate milk, potatoes, sweets, games and cereals. He also likes to repeat the names of these items for everyone he knows. He is argued that his slogan is "I like chocolate milk," as cheese uttered this sentence in all his appearances on the show, except for cheese a go-go and goodbye to Bloo. Cheese flame virtually all chocolate milk, so you can get confused when it's asking for a drink different from chocolate milk. Another of his catchphrases could be his breach of breath followed by a deadpan "ok". He is also known for a few times, announces "I pooted." In addition, it is easily scared for common objects such as cake, spiders, not having a spoon and other assorted schismars. Always frustrated or scared, he screams in piercing tones of ears as in Mac Dad seen when he, Bloo and Mac went down a giant slope in a go-cart. Although loving chocolate milk, he (according to Mac) is intolerant lactose, and therefore it is not allowed to have him, who is also going to be Ironic considering his homónimo .
