MERIT BADGE

You can learn about sports, crafts, science, business, and future careers as you earn badges to the credit. There are more than 135 meritorious badges, and any Boy Scout or Varsity Scout, or any skilled adventurer or marine explorer can win any of them at any time. Pick a theme. Talk to your unit chief about your interests. Read the requirements for the meritorious badges you think you might be interested in, and choose one to win. Your leader will give you the name of a person from a list of counselors. These people have special knowledge in your merry badge topics and are interested in helping you. Scout Buddy System. You should have another person with you at every meeting with the Merit Badge Advisor. This person may be your parent or legal guardian, or another registered adult. Call MÃ©rito's Insignia Advisor. Get a signed Application for the Merit Badge, No. 34 124 or No. 34 130, from your head of unit. Contact the Merit badge advisor and explain that you want to win the badge. The counselor may ask to meet with you to explain what is expected and start helping you meet the requirements. You should also discuss the work you have already started or possibly completed. At the first meeting, you and your merited badge counselor will review and can start working on the requirements. In some cases, you can share work you have already started or completed. Unless otherwise specified, work on a requirement may begin at any time. Ask your counselor to help you learn the things you need to know or do. You should read the flyer of the badge to the merito on the subject. Many troops, schools and public libraries have them. Show your things. When you are ready, call the counselor again to make an appointment. When you leave, take the things you've done to meet the If they are too big to move, take pictures or ask an adult to write down what they have done. The counselor will test you on each requirement to make sure you know what you are doing and have done or can do things the badge. When the counselor is satisfied that you have met all the requirements, he or she will sign your application. Deliver the signed application to your unit head so that your merit badge emblem can be secured for you. Merit badge requirements are revised as necessary to reflect up-to-date information and technology. Please refer to the latest Boy Scout Requirements book for updates to meritorious badge requirements. The current Boy Scout Requirements book is available at your local Scout merchandise distributor. You can also order online at ScoutStuff.org. Requirements. You are expected to meet the requirements listed, no more, no less. You must do exactly what is stated in the requirements. If it says "show or show", that's what you should do. Just telling it isn't enough. The same applies to words such as "do", "list", "in the field", "collect", "identify" and "label." Each year, the BSA updates a number of merit badge requirements. the current and official requirements of the Boy Scouts of America. Occasionally, the requirements will not match those of the printed Boy Scout Manual, the annual Boy Scout Requirements booklet, or some meritorious badge pamphlets due to the time they are printed. If a new edition of a Merit Badge pamphlet is introduced with the updated requirements after the Boy Scout Requirements book has been published, a Scout who is starting the badge may choose to follow any of the sets of requirements until the end of the year. At the beginning of the new year, Scouts who start must use only the new requirements. If a Scout has already started working on a badge on merit when a new edition of the brochure is introduced, he or she can continue to use the same brochure and meet the requirements to get the badge. No, start again with the new prospectus and revised requirements. There is no time limit for booting and and A badge logo, but all the work must be completed at the moment a scout turns 18 years. Make sure you are working with an official counselor of MÃ©rito Badge. Pide Scoutmaster Voiles or McCarthy to sign your blue card before starting your doctor's badge work. The following steps will be explained, including the search for a list of counselors of the MÃ©rito Badge from which to choose from. You can also ask for other adult or scout leaders for the counselors of the Suggested MÃ©rito Badge. Remember that explorers need a companion to visit with a MÃ©rito Badge Counselor. Verify that your counselor has current YPT.
