26th April 2018 Have you created your new myGPhC account? This week you will receive a letter from the GPhC with the activation code you will need to sign up to the new myGPhC.No matter how long you have been registered, the first time you use the new myGPhC,you will need tocreate a new account.Important:your existing myGPhC login details will not work. If you try to use them, you will lock your account.Please look out for your letter later this week, and sign up to make sure youre ready to record your revalidation and to renew your registration.See the guide below: To continue practising as a pharmacist or pharmacy technician, you need to renew your registration every year.Every year, you must renew your registration and submit your revalidation records. This needs to be done at least two months before your registration expires and is required by law.If you dont, youll be removed from the register and wont be able to practice. You will need to log onto your myGPhC account to renew your registration. If you havent got an account yet, you can sign up for one.Once youre logged in:Check your details are correct. You can update your address, email or telephone number within your account.If youve changed your name, download a change of details form and email it to registers@pharmacyregulation.org.Declare youre fit to practice. If you have anything to declare, follow the prompts to give us more information.Pay your renewal fee by credit or debit card, or set up a direct debit.The fee for renewing your registration as a pharmacist is 276.The fee for renewing your registration as a pharmacy technician is 130.Collect your receipt. You can download a receipt from the my payments page. If you paid by card it may take up to 48 hours for the receipt to show.If youre paying by direct debit, it may take up to 21 days for the payment to show.If you want to receive a transaction receipt from Worldpay, go to the payment screen in myGPhC. In the 'Contact details' section, click 'Edit' and enter your email address, before you pay. We're not able to provide you with a Worldpay receipt after you have completed your payment. When you renew your registration with us, youll be asked to agree to a set of statements. Read more about these in our factsheet. Direct Debit is an easy way to renew your annual registration with us.Set up DD Each year, pharmacists and pharmacy technicians must record what they have done to keep their knowledge and skills up to date and reflect on how they have put this into practice. They must make a set of declarations and pay a fee to renew their registration.Pharmacy professionals make a huge difference to people every day, whatever sector you work in. Youre trusted to provide a professional and safe service to support people to live longer and healthier lives.Revalidation is a requirement that every pharmacy professional needs to do each year to be able to renew their registration and continue to practise. Its a process that involves reflecting on your work and striving to continually develop. Its one of the ways that we work with you to strengthen public confidence in pharmacy. It helps you to:keep your professional skills and knowledge up to datereflect on your practicecontinually developshow how you provide safe and effective careeach the standards required. Full revalidation requirements include providing:four continuing professional development (CPD) recordsone peer discussion recordone reflective account record. If you dont renew, youll be removed from the register and wont be able to practice. Youll need to restore your entry to the register before youre able to practise again.
