Indeed, downloaded or eAadhaar mAadhaar profile have updated details of Aadhaar holders and therefore, these should be preferable. If any / agency / department official refuses to accept downloaded eAadhaar, the holder Aadhaar can lodge a complaint with the competent authorities of these departments / agencies. He benefited from a common person in different ways. Foremst is - with a credible identity. Aadhaar has power almost all residents of the country with a widely trusted identity. The acquisition of this verifiable identity has led to the financial inclusion for unbanked rural populations in remote areas of the country. They can use their Aadhaar to the open open bank And get government benefits directly in their accounts. Aadhaar-based services such as Aadhaar (AEPS) payment system helped bring banking services to villages and remote towns. The elderly are able to use banking access to their government benefits. With a portable identity like Aadhaar, people now have a means to demonstrate their identity for jobs, travel and services as bank accounts, gas connections, mobile sims, etc. This brought to social inclusion for the migrant population in the country. With Aadhaar based on E-KYC, many service providers were able to obtain user verification services without paper and instant services. This is not only for the benefit of customers, but also helped save time, effort and money for service providers. But and more with a 12-digit identification number that does nothing but verify your identity! 12. We continue to hear the media that Aadhaar data has been violated. Is it true? The data of all Aadhaar holders are safe and secure in the repositories of the central identity data (CIDR) of IDIDI. The Aadhaar database in CIDR has never been violated in all these years of its existence. Some organizations, in order to follow the transparency protocols, had published their beneficiary data on their websites, which included Aadhaar's details. I will take appropriate measures to remove this and has also sensitized all organizations and agencies related to the matter. I ivy is working closely with all user agencies to improve data security measures when it comes to sensitive user details as Aadhaar. I ivy uses advanced security technologies to keep your data safe and continues to update them to meet the emerging threats and challenges and challenges. Challenges.
