The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy (Nominated as one of the most beloved novels by PBS's The Great American Read) Seconds before Earth is demolished for a galactic highway, Arthur Dent is saved by Ford Prefect, a researcher of the revised Guide. Together they put their thumbs to the stars and start a wild journey through time and space. The restaurant at the end of the universe The moment before the annihilation to hands of hotongers is a curious moment to crave tea. It could only happen to the insubstitute cosmic Arthur Dent and his companions as they wound through the galaxy in a desperate search for a place to eat. Life, the universe and all the unhappy inhabitants of the planet Krikkit are sick of watching the night sky, so they intend to destroy it. The universe, here. Now only five individuals can avoid Armageddon: Arthur in a mythical presenceand his crew. So, Long, and thanks for all the fish back on Earth, Arthur Dent is ready to believe that the last eight years have all been just a figment of his stressed imagination. But a fisherman with a cryptic inscription brings it back to reality. So to speak. Mostly without weapons just when Arthur Dent commits the terrible mistake of starting to enjoy life, all hell melts. Can you save the Earth from total elimination? Can you save the Guide from a hostile alien acquisition? Can you save your daughter from herself? I'm sure you'll be able to make a big eye for details and heavy doses of intuition.
